Udon Thani

*Waterfall from Phu Phan, Dharma Park,
Five Thousand-year Civilization,
Land of Mi-khit Cloth,
Wonderful Nong Prachak Place,
and Scented Udorn Sunshine Orchid*

Udon Thani is a large province and serves as a centre of transportation and tourism in the Northeast of Thailand. It portrays a land of forest temples, a gateway to Laos and the Indochina countries, and possesses one of the world's ancient civilisation sites. Also, it is blessed with natural tourist attractions as well as famous for Khit-styled handicraft.

Udon Thani covers an area of approximately 11,730 sq km, and its administration is divided into 18 Amphoe (districts): Mueang Udon Thani; Nong Wua So; Nong Han; Ban Phue; Ban Dung; Kumphawapi; Non Sa-at; Phen; Nam Som; Kut Chap; Si That; Wong Sam Mo; Thung Fon; Sang Khom; Chai Wan; Nong Saeng; Na Yung; and Phibun Rak, and 2 King Amphoe (minor districts): Ku Kaeo and Prachaksinlapakhom.

ATTRACTIONS

Amphoe Mueang

The Monument of Krommaluang Prachaksinlapakhom (อนุสาวรีย์พระเจ้าบรมวงศ์เธอ กรมหลวงประจักษ์ศิลปาคม)

This Monument is located in the heart of Udon Thani city. Born in 1856 as a son of King Rama IV (Phrabat Somdet Phra Chomklaochaoyuhua) and the King's Consort Sangwan (Chao Chom Manda Sangwan), Major General Prince Prachaksinlapakhom (Phon Tri Phra Chao Borommawongthoe Krommaluang Prachaksinlapakhom), as a regent to King Rama V, ruled the Northern Circle (later called the "Udon Circle") during 1893-1899. As the founder of Udon town in 1893, he set out the civil administration order and served important official duties for the public benefits. The Monument symbolizes the highest tribute paid to the prince by the people of Udon Thani and the ceremony to worship him is held on 18 January every year.

Nong Prachaksinlapakhom Public Park

(สวนสาธารณะหนองประจักษ์ศิลปาคม)

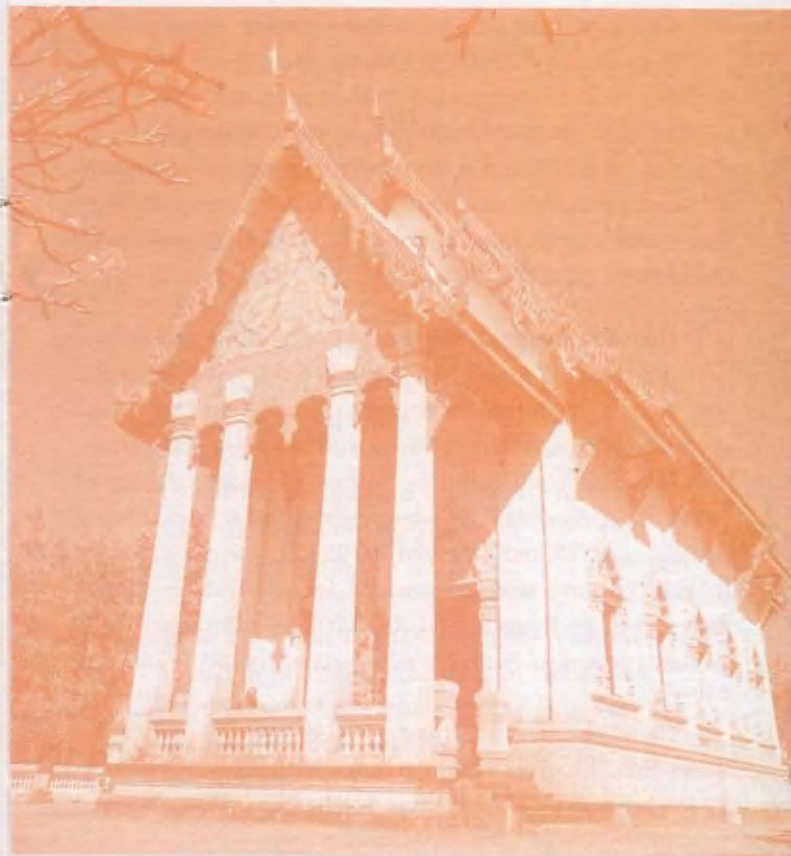

Located in the Udon Thani Municipality, this giant pond has existed before the establishment of Udon Thani town. Lying to the west of the town, it was formerly called "Nong Na Klue" (pond of salty water) and later changed to "Nong Prachak" in honor of Major General HRH Prince Prachaksinlapakhom, the founder of Udon Thani town. In 1987, the Udon Thani Municipality improved the pond as a royal tribute to King Rama IX on the auspicious occasion of his 50th birthday anniversary. On an island in the pond, a small garden is filled with decorative and flowering plants, and there is a bridge linking the island with the mainland. Within the park, there is a fountain, a clock tower, and a playground. It serves as a place of recreation and exercise for the public.

Wat Phothisomphon (วัดโพธิสมภรณ์)

This temple is located on Pho Si Road in Tambon Mak Khaeng. It was built in the late reign of King Rama V. Maha Ammat Tri Phraya Sisuriyatchawaranuwat (Phothi Netiphothi), Lord Lieutenant of the Udon Circle persuaded the villagers of Mak Khaeng to build the temple, which was commonly called Wat Mai.é Later, Phra Chao Worawongthoe Krommaluang Chinnawonsiriwat, the Supreme Patriarch, Wat Ratchabophitsathitmahasimaram, named the temple as "Wat Phothisomphon," to commemorate Phraya Sisuriyatchawaranuwat, the temple builder. Inside, there is also a museum of revered monks famous for meditation.

Udon Thani Museum (พิพิธภัณฑสถานเมืองอุดร)

Located on Pho Si Road in Rachinuthit Building, this museum was initiated by Mr. Chaiporn Ratananaka, governor of Udon Thani province. It displays background aspects of Udon Thani, ranging from history, archaeology, natural science, geology, folk history, arts and culture, to the biography and honorable deeds of Krommaluang Prachaksinlapakhom, the founder of Udon Thani town. Opening hours are from 08.30-16.30 hrs. Admission fees: 10 Baht for adults and 5 Baht for children.

Wat Matchimawat

Wat Matchimawat (วัดมัทนิมาวาส)

This temple is located in Tambon Mak Khaeng. During the reign of King Rama V, Krommaluang Prachaksinlapakhom commanded the construction of a new temple to replace Wat Non Mak Khaeng, the old deserted temple, and named it "Wat Matchimawat." Within its Wihan building, there is a white stone Buddha image under Naga (serpent) protection, or commonly known as "Luangpho Nak," which has been highly respected by the people of Udon Thani.

Chaopu-Chaoya Chinese Spirit Shrine (ศาลเจ้าปู่ย่า)

This large and beautiful Chinese spirit shrine is located on Nittayo Road behind the train station near Nong Bua Market. Here, there is a small garden beside a lotus pond. Two Chinese pavilions stand in the pond, serving as a view point in pleasant and shady surroundings. The golden dragon of 99 m. long, to be used during the Thung Si Mueang annual fair in December, is also kept here.

Udon Sunshine Orchid Farm (สวนกล้วยไม้หอมอุดรซันไชน์)

This farm is located at 127 Mu 5, Soi Kamon Watthana. It is a nursery of Udon Sunshine, a new fragrant Thai orchid species from cross-breeding Vanda with Josephine Van Berrow. The flower was registered as "Udon Sunshine Orchid" or "Miss Udon Sunshine" for a copyright with the World Orchid Society in the United Kingdom in 1988. Its scent is extracted to make perfume which is branded for sale with its species name. Opening hours are 07.00-18.00 hrs. Admission fee is 20 Baht per person. For more information, contact Tel. 0 4224 2475.

Travel: From town, drive along Highway No. 2 (Udon Thani-Nong Khai) for 5 km. and turn left to Highway No. 2024. The signpost to the farm is on your left.

Wat Pa Ban Tat (วัดป่าบ้านตาด)

This temple is located in Tambon Ban Tat. It covers an area of approximately 163 rai and generally features a shady forest. Inside its compound, wild animals are in abundance: pheasant, red jungle fowl, birds, squirrel, tree shrew, common wild pig etc. The temple is also a residence of Phra Achan Maha Bua Yannasampanno, the revered Buddhist master of meditation and a follower of Phra Achan Man Phurithatto, the late master. Here is an ideal place for those who determine to practise Dharma (Lord Buddha's teachings).

Travel: From town, drive along Highway No. 2 (Udon Thani - Khon Kaen) then turn right at Ban Khong Kheng intersection and go further for about 9 km. The temple is not far from the community of Ban Tat.

Wat Thipphayaratnimit (วัดทิพย์ราษฎร์นิมิตร)

This temple is located on Naresuan Road, Tambon Mak Khaeng, off the main road into Soi San Chao Mae Thapthim and opposite to a polytechnic school. It is another forest temple in the area of Amphoe Mueang and has a pleasant shady atmosphere. There is a large pagoda which contains Lord Buddha's relics. The pagoda is shaped like "Thanan," a utensil used in ancient times to scoop Lord Buddha's relics. A portrait of Luang Pu Thira Chitthammo, the present abbot, is displayed with basic living utensils for Buddhist monks in the pavilion. On the fourteenth waxing moon day of the twelfth lunar month, Thot Kathin (robe offering ceremony) and merit making to celebrate the abbot's birthday anniversary are held every year.

Ban Na Kha (หมู่บ้านนาข่า)

Located 16 km. from town along the Udon Thani-Nong Khai route (Highway No. 2), this village is on your right, opposite the Na Kha Community School. There is Khit-cloth weaving here and Khit-cloth products are available at reasonable prices. Travel to this village can be made by bus from a bus stop in front of Udon Thani Rajabhat University and Rang-sina Market.

Huai Luang Reservoir (อ่างเก็บน้ำห้วยหลวง)

This reservoir is located on the Udon Thani-Nong Bua Lam Phu Highway, off the main road at Km. 108 for another 9 km. It is a large reservoir covering an area of about 20,000 rai, for the purposes of agriculture, fishery, and waterworks under the responsibility of the Royal Irrigation Department, Ministry of Agriculture and Co-operatives. As a tourist attraction, a scenic landscape is offered with a royal palace of the late Princess Mother. Prior contact is required for those to visit the place.

Amphoe Ban Phue

Phu Phra Bat Historical Park

(อุทยานประวัติศาสตร์ภูพระบาท)

This historical park is located at the foot of Mount Phu Phan, covering an area of 3,430 rai in Ban Tio, Tambon Mueang Phan. It displays the civilisation of mankind and changes in landscape of which structure is mostly composed of sandstone having been eroded by nature to become rock formations of different sizes and patterns. There are various interesting places as evidence of human life in the past:

Phra Phutthabat Bua Bok (พระพุทธบาทบัวบก)

This Buddha's footprint, built during 1920-1934, is on the left side of the way to the park headquarters. "Bua Bok" is a name of the plant growing in the forest and having leaves in the shape of a lotus leaf, locally called "Phak Nok." The plant was abundant in the area where the Buddha's footprint was found, so it has become the name of the place, or the name may originate from the words "Bo Bok," which mean "not being dry." The footprint features a bowl of around 60 cm. deep in the rocky ground, 1.93 m. long and 90 cm. wide. Formerly, a Mondop structure was built to house the footprint. In 1922, Phra Achan Sithat Suwanmacho replaced the Mondop with a pagoda called Phra That Chedi, and created a replica of the footprint to put on the existing one. The pagoda where Lord Buddha's relics are contained is in the shape of an angular lotus similar to Phra That Phanom. A fair to pay homage to Phra Phutthabat Bua Bok is held during the thirteenth waxing moon day to the full moon day of the third lunar month every year.

Phra Phutthabat Lang Tao (พระพุทธบาทหลังเต่า)

This Buddha's footprint is located to the south of Phra Phutthabat Bua Bok. It is around 25 cm. deep in the rocky ground and has a lotus image carved in relief in the centre. Since it is behind a stone shelter that looks like a turtle (Tao), the footprint is called Phra Phutthabat Lang Tao.

Caves and Stone Shelters (ถ้ำและเพิงหินต่าง ๆ)

There is a scattering of caves and stone shelters within walking distance in the park area, such as Tham-Lai Mue (Lai Mue Cave), Tham Non Sao-e (Non Sao-e Cave), Tham Wua Daeng (Wua Daeng Cave) etc. (These caves were presumed to be a shelter of people in the Stone Age, and they drew figures of things, such as humans, hand, animals, and geometric designs, found in the caves. Stone shelters beautifully created by nature include Khok Ma Thao Barot, Ho Nang Usa, and Bo Nam Nang Usa. There is also a nice rocky ground called "Lan Hin Non Sao-e." These rocky formations enhanced an imagination of the generations after the era to compose the folk legend "Nang Usa - Thao Barot." In addition, fragments of boundary stone posts and sandstone carved into a Dvaravati-styled Buddha image were found at the stone shelters: Phoeng Hin Wat Pho Ta and Phoeng Hin Wat Luk Khoei.

Inside the park, a visitor centre offers information and maps. For more information, contact Tel. 0 4291 0107. Opening hours: 08.00-16.30 hrs. Admission fee: 30 Baht. The park is 67 km. from town. Drive along Highway No. 2 (Udon Thani-Nong Khai), and turn left at Km. 13 to Highway No. 2021. Head for Amphoe Ban Phue for 42 km. turn right and go on for 500 m. Drive straight along Highway No. 2348 for another 12 km. and turn right for approximately 2 km. before reaching the park.

Phra Phutthabat Bua Ban (พระพุทธบาทบัวบาน)

Located on a hill in Tambon Mueang Phan, this is a site where there is an ancient Buddha's footprint housed in the Ubosot (ordination hall). Many pieces of Bai Sema (boundary stone) were excavated here. They were made of sandstone and carved into images of Thewada (male spirit) and Apsara (woman spirit), which is a mixture of Dvaravati and Lop Buri arts.

Wat Pa Ban Kho (วัดป่าบ้านค้อ)

This temple is located in Tambon Khuea Nam. Here, there is Phra Maha That Chedi Chaloem Barami Phra Nawamin, a pagoda that contains Lord Buddha's relics. Inside the pagoda, sculptures depict the history of Lord Buddha, jataka stories, and Buddha images in different attitudes. The temple is ideal for practitioners of Dharma (Buddha's teachings). It has been designated by the Udon Thani Administration Office as the Udon Thani Chaloem Phra Kiat Mind Development Centre. Both Thais and foreigners usually come to practise Dharma here.

Travel: From town, drive along Highway No. 2 (Udon Thani - Nong Khai), turn left at Km 13 to Highway No. 2021 (Udon Thani - Ban Phue) and go further for 20 km. Then, turn right and take another 3 km. towards the temple.

Amphoe Nam Som

Na Yung-Nam Som National Park (อุทยานแห่งชาติภูผายูง-น้ำโสม)

This national park is located in Ban Sawang, Mu 2, Tambon Na Yung. Attractions of the park are:

Namtok Yung Thong (น้ำตกยุงทอง)

This waterfall is located on the ridge of Mount Phu Phan and Mount Phu Ya U, around 500 m. from the park headquarters. Its stream flows along attractive complicated boulders amid the greenery of trees. The small three-tiered waterfall has a pond where visitors can play. In the past, it was a habitat of peafowl, so the waterfall is called "Yung Thong" (golden peafowl).

Pha Daeng Viewpoint (จุดชมวิวดาeng)

This viewpoint is around 1,500 m from the park headquarters and on the nature study trail of Namtok Yung Thong. Pha Daeng is a high steep sandstone cliff overlooking a beautiful panoramic view. Not far from Pha Daeng, there is a small cave where Luang Pu Man Phurithatto used to stay for insight development.

Namtok Yung Thong Nature Study Trail (น้ำตกยungทอง)

This walking trail is to offer nature interpretation for visitors along the way through Namtok Yung Thong, Namtok Tat Noi, and Pha Daeng viewpoint, covering the distance of around 2,000 m.

Travel: From town, go along Udon Thani-Nong Khai Highway for 15 km. Turn left to Amphoe Ban Phue and head for Amphoe Nam Som. Turn right at Ban Sam Liam to Amphoe Na Yung and go further for around 15 km. Turn right at Ban Sawang and take another 2 km. towards the park headquarters.

Ban Chiang National Museum

Amphoe Nong Han

Ban Chiang National Museum

(พิพิธภัณฑ์สถานแห่งชาติ บ้านเชียง)

This museum is located in Ban Chiang, Tambon Ban Chiang. It is an important historical site of Northeast Thailand and Southeast Asia. The Fine Arts Department surveyed and excavated the Ban Chiang archaeological site during 1974-1975. The evidence found revealed the pre-historical age of the site of around 5,600-1,800 years ago. The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) registered the site as a World Heritage Site of history at Carthage, Tunisia in December 1992. The museum is divided into three parts:

Part I: Wat Pho Si Nai Excavation Pit (หลุมขุดค้นวัดโพธิ์ศรีใน)

This features an open museum, the first of its kind in Thailand. There is a permanent exhibition of archaeological excavation for visitors to witness art objects in layers of soil; most of them are earthenware being buried with the corpses.

Part II: Somdet Phra Srinagarindra Borommaratchachonnani Building (อาคารสมเด็จพระศรีนครินทร์บรมราชชนนี)

This building displays an exhibition of Ban Chiang which was once brought to display in the United States and Singapore. The exhibition has two segments: Ban Chiang in the Past, encompassing ancient objects and evidence found in the excavation of the Ban Chiang archaeological site; and Today's Ban Chiang, describing the way of life, tools, utensils, and folk arts. In addition, there is a briefing room, film and still screening, and other educational services.

Part III: Ban Thai Phuan (บ้านไทพวน)

This house is 700 m. away from Ban Chiang National Museum. Formerly, it belonged to Mr. Phot Montriphithak who gave it to the Fine Arts Department. This area is an ancient site where archaeological excavation was conducted and many ancient objects were found. Their Majesties the King and Queen visited the place on 20 March, 1972.

Travel: From Udon Thani town, the total distance is around 55 km. Take Highway No. 22 (Udon Thani-Sakon Nakhon). After slightly passing the intersection to Amphoe Ban Dung, a signpost to the museum is on your left. Go on for around 8.2 km. before reaching the museum. It opens daily from 09.00-17.00 hrs. Admission fee: 30 Baht. For more information, contact Tel. 0 4220 8340-41.

Amphoe Ban Dung

Kham Chanot (คำชะโนด)

Located at Wat Sirisuttho in Tambon Wang Thong, this sacred place gains respect from villagers in neighbouring areas. It is said to be an entrance to the water world, a legendary place concerning the great Naga (serpent) according to a belief among Lao and Isan villagers. Nowadays, the place is densely covered with Chanot trees, which resemble a mixture of palm and coconut trees. Inside, there is a shrine of Chaopu Sisuttho and a sacred well for worship.

Travel: From Udon Thani town, the total distance is around 101 km. Take the Udon Thani - Sakon Nakhon route and turn left to Amphoe Ban Dung, for 84 km. From Amphoe Ban Dung, drive on another 17 km before reaching Kham Chanot.

Amphoe Kumphawapi

Phrathat Don Kaeo or Phra Maha That Chedi

(พระธาตุขมแก้ว หรือพระมหาธาตุเจดีย์)

Located in Mu 5, Ban Don Kaeo, this pagoda stands in the centre of Wat Maha That Chedi (Wat Phrathat Don Kaeo). It is an angular pagoda resembling Phrathat Phanom, with a height of over 18 wa. The main body was built into 2 tiers: each has sculptures of Lord Buddha's history and heaven-hell story. This square sandstone pagoda is around 1 sok long and has an outer mortared surface. It was presumed that Wat Phrathat Don Kaeo, Bai Sema (boundary stone), and Sao Hin (stone post) were built in around 12-13 A.D.

Travel: From Udon Thani town, take Highways No. 2 and No. 2350 to Amphoe Kumphawapi. Turn left at the natural garden and drive on for another 3.4 km. The total distance is 50 km from Amphoe Mueang.

Amphoe Nong Saeng

Namtok Than Ngam Forest Park (วนอุทยานน้ำตกธารงาม)

This forest park is located in Tambon Nong Saeng in the forest areas of Khun Huai Sam Thak and Khun Huai Kong Si, covering an area of 78,125 rai. It was declared as a forest park on 19 December, 1984. Around Than Ngam Waterfall is Mixed Deciduous Forest; major species are Ta baek, Pradu, Daeng, Makha mong, Chingchan, and Krabok. The waterfall contains water at certain times; there is a lot of water during the rainy season.

Interesting points in the forest park include a cliff, a beautiful cave and a stone ground. The stone ground, or commonly called "Lae," covers a large area with a scattering of overlapping giant rocks, and overlooks a scenic view. No accommodation is provided by the park.

Accommodation: Visitors are required to bring their own tents for an overnight stay. For more information, contact Tel. 0 4222 1725.

Travel: The park is 6 km. away from Amphoe Nong Saeng. Three routes are available:

Route I Udon Thani - Ban Lao - Khok Lat - Amphoe Nong Saeng, totalling around 35 km.

Route II Udon Thani - Ban Kham Kling - Ban Tat - Amphoe Nong Saeng, totalling around 30 km.

Route III Udon - Thani - Huai Koeng - Amphoe Nong Saeng, totalling around 60 km.

Phu Foi Lom (ภูฝอยลม)

This ecotourism site is located in Pa Phan Don - Pakho National Forest Reserve, covering an area of 192,350 rai on the Phu Phan Noi Range in Tambon Thap Kung. It is considered as one of the best nature study centres of the Northeast region: there are demonstration beds of plants, the Garden of Wild Plants in Celebration of Her Majesty the Queen's Sixtieth Birthday Anniversary and a viewpoint overlooking Udon Thani town. Accommodation and camping sites are available for an overnight stay. For more information, contact Tel. 0 4224 6715, 0 4291 0935-6.

Travel: Drive along the Udon Thani - Loei route and take a turn at Km. 9 to Ban Lao.

Amphoe Wang Sam Mo

Wang Sam Mo Forest Park (วนอุทยานวังสามหมอ)

This forest park is located in Tambon Nong Kung Thap Ma in Pa Bayao - Pa Hua Na Kham - Pa Nong Kung Thap Ma - Pa Na Yung - Pa Nong Ya Sai National Forest Reserve. It was declared as a forest park on 19 January, 1984, covering an area of around 18,750 rai. Most of the area is a plain being covered with Pa Daeng or Deciduous Dipterocarp Forest, Yang, and Ta khian thong. There are creeks and islets where water flows all year round. Wild animals found are Malayan flying lemur, palm civet, civet, green pigeon, etc.

Interesting places include:

Wang Yai (วังไทร)

This large pond has water flowing all year round. Lam Phan Chat creek flows through the pond where there are rapids and boulders amid a cool atmosphere suitable for recreation. Visitors can play in the pond or do activities: whitewater rafting, paddling and fishing.

Kaeng Mon Noi (แก่งมอนน้อย)

These rapids are around 800 m away from Wang Yai pond, along Lam Phan Chat creek. Cascades against boulders which were eroded by water form beautiful waterfalls at certain points along their course.

Kaeng Hin Hom (แก่งหินหอน)

These large split-level rapids are around 100 m from Kaeng Mon Noi. The resonant roar is heard in the distance during the rainy season when there is a lot of downpour. More ponds and rapids, such as Kaeng Khan, Wang Kaeng Kham, Wang Mak Lam, etc. can be admired in the park.

Accommodation: No accommodation is provided by the park. Visitors are required to take their own tents for an overnight stay. Contact the chief of the Wang Sam Mo Forest Park for advance permission. For further information, contact the National Park, Wildlife and Plant Conservation Department, Tel. 0 2562 0760.

Travel: From Udon Thani town, take the Kumphawapi - Si That - Wang Sam Mo route (Highway No. 2023). Turn left to Highway No. 227 and drive on to Tambon Nong Kung Thap Ma. Follow the lane of the main road towards the park for 9 km. The park is 20 km. away from Amphoe Wang Sam Mo. The total distance from Udon Thani town is 120 km.

Amphoe Kut Chap

Tham Sing (ถ้ำสิงห์)

This lion cave is located on the Phu Phan Range in Ban Nong Charoen, Mu 7. Attractions inside the cave are:

Sam Ton Mak (ลำต้นหมาก)

This is an area where a lot of betel palm trees grow. During the rainy season, the area is always flooded. Villagers usually take their cattle to lap water here. It is a shady and pleasant place.

Lan Thap Khwai (ลานทับควาย)

This is a broad ground with a roof-shaped rock formation and surrounding wild plants. Lan Thap Khwai literally means a cattle rest ground. In the old days, villagers brought their cattle to feed and took shelter here for a lunch break.

Tham Khok Ma (ถ้ำคอกม้า)

This stable cave is a shelter of overlapping rock formations with a hole that a person can walk through. Its name relates to the legend of Usa-Barot.

Tham Ruəsi (ถ้ำฤๅษี)

This hermit cave features a boulder of 2.20 m. high with an entrance in the shape of a shelter of overlapping rock formations.

Other interesting places are Bo Nam Phayanak, Tham Sahai Kep Sabiang, Lat Khom, Lat Kha Noi, Bo Nam Manora, Tham Nok Yung, Suan Hin Mahaisawan, etc.

Travel: The cave is 45 km away from Udon Thani town. Take Highway No. 2263 (Udon Thani - Kut Chap). Pass Ban Nong Khong, Ban Nong Charoen, and Ban Nong Mek. Turn left at the T-junction of Wat Charoen Sattha Samakkhi to the Phu Lon Sangha abode. Go further for around 3 km. to the foot of Mount Phu Phan and walk another 3 km. to the cave.
